To support excellence in the instrumental music tradition, The Columbia Community Band offers a scholarship in honor of former CCB music director Keith E. House.

Professor House was a teacher and conductor who spent part of his professional career at the Swinney Conservatory at Central Methodist University in Fayette, Missouri. He is remembered as an inspiring professional who shaped the careers of many top-notch musicians and public-school music directors.

Eligibility

A $1000 scholarship will be awarded to a high school senior band member who is planning to pursue a degree at a four-year college and participate in at least one band-related ensemble during the freshman year. Your major instrument must be a concert band instrument and you must be a resident of Boone or Howard Counties.

Requirements

This application form must have all sections filled in completely and the application must be signed by the applicant. Please type or use ink and print clearly. Include a resume (no length limit) emphasizing accomplishments and attach it to the application form. Two signed letters of recommendation, one from your band director and one from your private teacher must be included and should be attached to the application form.

Application forms are available at www.ccbonline.org.

All applications must be postmarked by March 31, 2021 in order to be considered.
